HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER
HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive
Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.
Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.
It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.
It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

Also, the undersigned collects Government Vouchers, Scrip, Bounties, Prize Money, Back Pay, Lost Horse, Spoliation, Indian Claims and Claims on the Postoffice Department, and obtains Land Warrants, Pensions, Patents, and attends to all other business before the Departments, and collects all claims on any State. [DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO MAY 23.

Washington News in General.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—A correspondence is about to be published showing that politics had nothing to do with the non appointment of Gen. Hancock to the Department of the Pacific.

CHICAGO, May 22.—The Times' Washington special says the Fifteenth Amendment enforcement bill as it passed the Senate, is of such stringent character that it will not be acceptable to the author of the original measure which passed the House, and when taken up there, non-concurrence will be moved. The modification of the bill by imposing penalties for preventing negroes from voting, will be likely to come out of this disagreement.

Washington News in General.

CHICAGO, May 22.—The Tribune's Washington special says the foreign mail service is in better order under the treaties concluded by the present administration than at any previous period; except our relations with France, broken off, everything is going on satisfactory. The change in the English mails, from Australia via San Francisco, has placed us on a better footing in regard to carrying our own closed mails for the continent through England. Indications point to the necessity of compelling the French to come to terms with us. Our home affairs department is in a most promising condition.

The new bond and banking bill is about perfected by the Committee, and will appear in the same form as originally reported, but will hardly be considered before next week. Garfield thinks it can be carried through with some non-essential amendments. Many careful canvassers think it will be defeated—if not in the House then in the Senate.

The Times special says the land sales of the U. P. R. R. average nearly 40,000 acres per month; total sales to date about 300,000 acres; average price $4 50 per acre, showing that the restriction Congress proposes to apply in the case of the Northern Pacific railroad at $2 50 per acre is rather below than above the prices of other roads.

The appropriation bill is about ready to be reported to the House. The appropriations are quite heavy, one of the largest items being the recruiting service.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Cable dispatches state that Espartero has finally declined the Spanish crown. The King of Prussia heartily congratulates Napoleon on the result of the Plebiscitum.

CHICAGO, May 22.—The owners and occupants on what is known as the "Douglas tract," in the southern part of the city, are organising to defend their titles against an effort being made by the heirs of S. A. Douglas to obtain possession.

Politics at Richmond.

RICHMOND, May 21.—The Republicans have nominated G. Cahoun for Mayor and L. H. Chandler for Commonwealth Attorney. The election on Thursday is likely to be exciting.

CHICAGO, May 21.—The noted Sioux Chief "Spotted Tail," with several noted minor chiefs, arrived here to-day en route for Washington to meet the President, and with "Red Cloud" talk over the grievances of their respective bands.

Fenian Affairs.

CHICAGO, May 22.—The Tribune, to-day, says Edward Pearson, agent of the Red River insurgents, arrived here yesterday for the purpose of conferring with Gen. O'Neil, who is expected here to-morrow, in regard to the fulfillment of the latter's promise to assist Reill. The Fenians of Chicago, who control the Order in this and most of the Western States, want O'Neil, but still have positive information that the California Fenians will send a battalion of 1,000 strong, under Col. Smith and Lieut. Col. Walsh, to meet O'Neil somewhere on the border and co-operate with him.

From the West Indies.

HAVANA, May 22.—Gov. Sanz of Porto Rico has been recalled.

Hayti continues peaceful.

The Dominican insurrection is increasing. Believing annexation a hoax, the ratification treaty with the United States is called for to insure tranquility.

Caraccas was captured on the 27th April by the rebel General Blanco, after two days fighting. The city is greatly damaged; 500 persons were killed. The new government, with Blanco for President, meets no resistance. Managas, late President, surrendered voluntarily.

Duties on exports are abolished and on imports greatly reduced.

Ex-President Falcon died at Martinique of apoplexy.

Vessels from England with the West India and Panama cable are arriving at Jamaica. Sir Charles Bright, director of the enterprise, was brought there by the New Orleans steamer Yazoo. The work of telegraph construction was in progress in Jamaica, Porto Rico and St. Thomas. It is anticipated that the cables will be laid by the end of June.

The Captain General reports that combined movements against the rebels have been effective. Hundreds have been killed, including eight chiefs and two Americans. Twenty-two were captured. The Spanish Col. Chinchilla, nephew of Regent Serrano, is not badly wounded.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 23.—Miss Terese Sagelmier, who was injured by the explosion of a coal oil lamp at the same time with Miss Platter, on Friday evening last, died to-day, though thought at first to be not fatally injured.

It is reported that the fruit growers still have some hopes of being able to obtain a reduction of charges per car load East.

Capt. Kentzel, of the harbor police, was run over by a runaway team to-day. The horse was thrown down and the buggy broken, but Kentzel was not much hurt.

The outstanding policies of the Oriental Fire and Marine Insurance Company have been transferred to the Occidental Insurance Company. The officers of the Oriental announce a suspension of business.

The First Regiment and First Battalion turned out with a fair number of men in ranks, to receive Gen. Hewston, returned from the East this evening.

Bayard Taylor is among the passengers from the East.

An excursion, to go at reduced rates, will be made up to start from here about the 9th of June.

The report that 1,000 Fenians, under Walsh and Smith, to leave here for the Red River country, is all bosh; no such movement was ever contemplated.

The Golden Gate Driving Park, and the half mile track of Hill's on the Cliff House road, has been purchased by a club of gentlemen who will fit it up for private stables and exercise grounds for training horses. There are to be 100 persons in the club and 75 have already joined.

A fight took place last evening in a butcher shop on the corner of Hinckley Place, Dupont street, in which a man had his throat cut with a butcher knife. The cutter, J. Sandelo, has been arrested. Michael O'Brien, the wounded man, is not dangerously hurt.

The Howard Base Ball club of Boston, is to visit California to play the various clubs here.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

GREAT REPUBLICAN MEETING AT VANCOUVER

[Special Dispatch to Oregonian.]

VANCOUVER, May 23—4:30 P. M.—Hon. S. Garfield, Republican nominee for Congress from this Territory, is now addressing the greatest number of people ever assembled in Clark county.

Laws Relating to Elections.

We have frequently been asked for information regarding the election laws of Oregon. To answer these inquiries once for all, we reprint from the Constitution and Laws of the State the following. In article second of the Constitution the qualifications of electors are thus prescribed:

In all elections not otherwise provided for by this Constitution, every white male citizen of the United States, of the age of twenty-one years and upwards, who shall have resided in the State during the six months immediately preceding such election, and every white male of foreign birth, of the age of twenty-one years and upwards, who shall have resided in the United States one year, and shall have resided in this State during six months immediately preceding such election, and shall have declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States one year preceding such election conformably to the laws of the United States on the subject of naturalization, shall be entitled to vote at all elections authorized by law.

That portion of the Constitution of Oregon which requires the voter to be a white male citizen is superseded by the recent amendment to the Constitution of the United States. The general naturalization laws provide that any alien of the age of twenty-one years and upwards, who has served in the regular or volunteer forces of the United States, and been honorably discharged, may be admitted at once to citizenship upon his petition, without being required to prove more than one year's residence in the country. Such person may, therefore, become a voter at once, under the law of the State. Article second of the Constitution of Oregon also requires that,—

All qualified electors shall vote in the election precinct in each county where they may reside, for county officers, and in any county in the State for State officers, or in any county of a Congressional District in which such electors may reside, for members of Congress.

Section 660 of the criminal code of Oregon provides the penalty for misconduct on the part of officers who conduct elections, viz:

If any judge or clerk of an election, or other officer or person on whom any duty is enjoined by law relative to any election authorized by law, or to the return or canvassing of votes given at any such election, shall be guilty of any wilful neglect of such duty or of any corrupt conduct in the discharge of the same, such judge, clerk, officer or other person, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary not less than one year nor more than three years, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than three months nor more than one year, or by fine not less than one hundred nor more than five hundred dollars.

Section one of the act of October 11, 1864, declares that "ninety days bona fide residence in a county, next preceding an election, shall be required to entitle a person to vote for county and precinct officers, and likewise ninety days preceding such election in a district, for district officers."

Section eleven of the general laws to regulate elections (Oregon Code, page 699) provides that "the polls shall be opened at nine o'clock in the forenoon, and continue open until six o'clock in the afternoon of the same day," but that the judges of election, in case they deem it necessary, "may postpone the closing of the polls until seven o'clock P. M." Section eighteen, under the same title (Code, page 701), provides that,—

When any person who shall offer himself as a voter shall be excluded from voting by the judges, they shall cause his name to be entered on the poll book as a rejected voter, and shall also take down the names of the persons for whom such person wishes to vote.

It is also provided in the Code, page 700, that if any person shall falsely swear that he is a legal voter he "shall be deemed guilty of wilful and corrupt perjury, and shall on conviction, suffer such punishment as now is or hereafter shall be prescribed by law for persons guilty of perjury." The same section also provides a penalty for voting improperly, as follows:

"If any person shall vote at any election who is not a qualified voter, he shall forfeit and pay for the use of the county in which such election shall take place, a sum not exceeding fifty, nor less than twenty-five dollars, to be sued for and recovered in the name of the County Court, by a civil action before any justice of the peace in such county."

The act of 1865, relating to the qualifications of voters and the conduct of elections is as follows:

"SECTION 1. That at all general and special elections held in this State, it shall be the duty of the judges of such election to administer the following oath to any person offering his vote, unless the person so offering to vote is known to one or more of said judges to possess the qualifications therein set forth, viz:

You, ——, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that you are a citizen of the United States, twenty-one years of age, and have resided in the State of Oregon six months immediately preceding this election, and ninety days in the district and county immediately preceding the election, and you know of no lawful disqualification that you possess; and that you will support the constitution and laws of the United States, and the government of the United States against all enemies, whether foreign or domestic, and will bear true faith, allegiance and loyalty to the same, any ordinance, resolution, or law of any State convention or legislature to the contrary, notwithstanding; and that you have not voted in any other county or precinct at this election. So help you God. If an affirmation, the words, "under the pains and penalties of perjury," shall be added.

In case the applicant is of foreign birth, and the foregoing oath is not applicable, the following oath, in lieu of the foregoing, shall be administered:

You do solemnly swear that you are twenty-one years of age, and have resided in the United States one year, and in the State of Oregon during the six months immediately preceding this election, and have declared your intention to become a citizen of the United States one year preceding this election, conformably to the laws of the United States on the subject of naturalization, and have bona fide resided in the district and county ninety days next preceding this election, and that you know of no lawful disqualification that you possess; and that you will support the constitution and laws of the United States, and the government of the United States against all enemies, whether foreign or domestic, and will bear true faith, allegiance, and loyalty to the same, any ordinance, resolution, or law of any State convention or legislature to the contrary, notwithstanding; and that you have not voted in any other county, district, or precinct at this election. So help you God. (Or, if an affirmation, to conclude as in the first oath.)

SEC. 2. That in case the applicant only wishes to vote for presidential electors or members of congress, so much of the oaths as refer to ninety days' residence in district and county may be omitted. And if he wishes to vote only for district officers, so much thereof as refers to county may be omitted: and if for county officers only, so much thereof as refers to district may be omitted.

SEC. 3. If any person applying to vote, is challenged by a lawful voter, the judges of election shall administer one of the foregoing oaths or affirmations to the said applicant, before he shall be allowed to vote.

SEC. 4. The aforesaid oaths shall be administered orally.

SEC. 5. If any person or persons shall, by menace, threat or violence, whether armed or unarmed, intimidate or prevent, or attempt to intimidate or prevent, any person from challenging another voter, or to prevent any person from voting, such person or persons so offending shall, upon conviction, be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary, not less than one nor more than three years."

These are the material parts of the laws relating to elections, and doubtless voters will find it convenient to keep this paper for reference.

Nesmith and Harding at Salem.

SALEM, May 23, 1870

ED. OREGONIAN:

Sir.—After being duly placarded, blowed of and for, until the Democracy were raised to a white heat, the Honorable ex-Senators Nesmith and Harding made their first appearance behind the foot lights of Reed's Opera House, on Saturday evening, last. The faithful were not slow to secure front seats for the show, being under the impression that the house, in theatrical parlance, would be crowded from pit to dome; but, alas for the hopes of the Business Manager, up to eight o'clock there was nothing more than a beggarly show of empty benches. After that hour a sufficient number of Republicans, drawn thither by curiosity, came in, although not quite enough to make a good sized audience. The business manager opened the proceedings by marching such of the heavy men of Salem of Democratic proclivities—don't misunderstand when I write heavy men,—heavy bodies—say 200 pounds avoirdupois, and upwards—as he could muster upon the stage, who filled the character of supes. The stage effect was very striking, and it brought forth many sneering side remarks from the unwashed who, were not heavy men, nor considered worthy of being honored. Seated, and the performance began.

The Hon. Ex Senator Nesmith, taking the stand, informed the audience that since his involuntary retirement from public life he had been tilling the soil and himself, that he would have still have still been in the aforesaid pleasant business were it not that the revolutionary Black Republicans had their fingers on the throat of constitutional liberty; that, like his patriot forefathers, he left his plow standing on the shady side of a tree, and proposed to march manfully to the front ranks of the Democracy (until the safely landed in the Senate again. The gentleman in his preliminary remarks stated that first he proposed to lay bare facts and tell truth; second, that he was no candidate. His speech disproved both, because he distorted history, and sunk himself in the filth of demagogism, much to the disgust of his audience, some of whom were Democrats.

The startling facts were slow to come, but he charged manfully upon Gov. Woods, and abused him to the best of his ability; and it was poorly done withal.

Again he referred to his facts, but did not deign to inform us what particular character in the play of U. S. Senator he filled. Then a few glittering generalities; one or two vulgar anecdotes stripped of their obscenity for the occasion; another Quixotic tilt at Governor Woods, a drifting forward to Republicanism and backwards to unadulterated Democracy; a small dose of equitable adjustment; a tremendous raid on E. L. Applegate; some more constitutional liberty; a reference to the soul of Mr. Lincoln that would have disgraced the rebel Wirtz; and the summit of his speech was reached. Before descending he stopped long enough to cap his matter with a reiterated assurance that he was no candidate for office or honors, and being in that very desirable position, he could speak freely and truthfully? Then he took Hon. G. H. Williams, to whom he applied the language of another—which was simply a repetition of the said lie—abused Williams and his railroad bills for the [illegible] and development of Oregon—particularly abused, the Astoria, Portland and McMinnville road and declared that Mr. Harding and himself were the only persons that ever did anything or any good towards securing land grants for rail and military roads in this State. Then he descended to the lowest pit of demagogism again by retailing a long story regarding the murder of Grafe by Yerger in Mississippi; made a hero of the murderer and a felon of the victim, received a boquet from the gallery, eulogized the Spartan matrons and subsided.

I see that the gentleman is up for a [illegible], such as Oro Fino Hall, in your city. If he can be induced to repeat the anti-railroad part of it, be assured he will increase the Republican majority of Multnomah.

Ex-United States Senator Harding took the stage for a brief period. He appeared not as a candidate, but proposed to run as the Agent of and for the people of Marion county. He had no particular objections to be elected State Senator, not be, but if the people did not want him, all right; but while they were leaving him out in the wet, they should not forget that he would save the Capital to Salem, and reduce the taxes of the county. Once on a time he was a Marion county agent, in various positions, and he held all things and all men level. Since he had become another in-voluntary Cincinnatus, things had gone to the devil, but now that the people had called him from his retirement, he came crowded with glory, his armor burnished, the chaplet of victory on his brow, determined to save them or be left upon the field. I am under the impression that the people, ay, even the Democracy of Marion, will assist to bury him on the 6th day of June next—but to [illegible]

THE SPEECH.

It consisted of copious extracts from Secretary May's Reports and Commissioner Wells' Reports on the Tariff,—the one that was gotten up during the bob-tail administration of Andrew Johnson for an electioneering document for Johnson—a lot of clap-trap to catch the free-trade voters of the Western States, all of which the gre[illegible] ex-Senator tried to palm off on his audience as something new. His Democratic hearers knew better, and said Oh——! Well never mind what they did say—each one can fill the blank to suit themselves. Presently when he declared himself about out of iron, steel and wool, one of the unterrified broke in upon him by requesting him to define his position on the Chinaman, which the speaker declined to do because it was getting late. The gentleman insisted "that now was the time, as the speaker had been misrepresented." Then Mr. H. tried to smile him off, but no, the distant mutterings indicated thunder in the atmosphere.

Then it was the speaker came out strong, throwing himself into a tragic attitude with hand aloft. We were expecting to hear from his lips—"Out damned spot!" or "Down! down to hell!" but instead he said "he was the nominee of a Democratic Convention, and he hoped, having been endorsed by such convention, that no one would question his Democracy." The audience thought as I did—

"SHOO, FLY."

The pertinent question asked by an impertinent Bed-Rocker, had a tendency to knock the gentleman out of time, who, after going back on the agency business, appeared in a new character—that of a political mendicant begging manfully for votes, he disappeared amid repeated shouts for a gentleman who is out on the war path after our would-be State Senator, Mr. Harding.

The Col. is a pure, unadulterated Democrat, a true gentleman, and has the best intellect of any known Oregon Democrat. He is ignored and abused by the Democratic Pot-Hunters because of his determination to defeat Harding. The Col. says H. is no Democrat. The Republican know he is not of them, and that feeling having taken possession of both parties, why, to use a political vulgarism, "it cooks his goose" and leaves more trading stock—if it is worthless—for Mr. Grover's friends. Yours, &c.,

Captain Ericsson, of Monitor fame, puts in a claim to a new invention, which, if a success, must work a revolution in naval warfare, and is at all events worthy of being brought to the attention of Congress during its debate on the naval appropriation. Captain Ericsson, who it must be remembered has given his whole life to the study of naval polemics, and who has revolutionized the whole business of sea fighting, declares that he has now succeeded in applying to the torpedo certain forces which enable him to guide its direction after it leaves the vessel from which it is operated. If this be so, iron clads have gone the way of the old walls and fortifications which they themselves drove out of use, and it is hardly policy any more to appropriate millions and tens of millions to building them.

Hiram Ketchum writes to the New York Evening Post that, under the law of New York, not a penny of the public money can be given to any sectarian school, until the fact is established that it is educating children who are not provided for in the common schools.

The 'Tyranny' of Federal Taxes in Oregon

Democratic orators are perambulating the State trying to make people believe that they are terribly oppressed with the weight of Federal taxation The class upon whom this sort of argument generally falls with most effect is the class who pay least taxes It even happens that many a man who pays nothing at all, directly in taxes and from whom next to nothing is obtained by indirect taxation believes that he is suffering the severest exactions Your Democratic orator ministers to this belief, and many a bed rock Democrat who does not pay the matter of ten dollars a year through the instrumentality of every species of national taxation is led to exclaim in a most woful manner over his tax ridden condition

The money which is drawn yearly from the people of Oregon by national taxation is a paltry sum compared with the amount actually expended here by the Government each year for the benefit of the people Oregon, therefore is one of the last States which should complain of the 'burdens' imposed by the national Government, which has always expended, and is now expending at least five dollars for our benefit for every dollar drawn away by taxation Let us go over some of the items

The amount of internal revenue collected yearly in Oregon is rather below $300 000 The expense of assessing and collecting this tax is about $35,000, which sum is of course retained here. The amount actually drawn from this State by the General Government in the shape of direct taxes is therefore not much, if at all, in excess of $250,000 per annum.

But it may be said that a large amount of money is paid to the Government, indirectly, by the people of this State through the instrumentality of the tariff Take this then, into the account also The whole amount of the tariff revenue of the country is about $180,000,000 a year The population of the country is about 40,000,000, which makes the tariff $4 50 per head Now Oregon does not consume a larger proportion of foreign goods than the other States. Our population is not above 100,000, so that the amount of indirect taxes paid yearly by the people of this State cannot possibly be more than $450,000, and is probably much less than that sum. Add to this the amount ($300,000) collected under the internal revenue laws, and we have $750,000 as the largest possible estimate of the amount per annum contributed by the people of Oregon to the national treasury. Now let us see what the Government is expending here

It has been shown by the published statements of the Postal Agent of Oregon that the expenses of the Post Office Department in this State exceed by more than $200,000 the receipts of the same In this single item we have almost enough to balance the whole amount of internal revenue collected in the State. The yearly expenses of this military department exclusive of pay of officers and men, have hitherto amounted to more than one million dollars, the larger part of which is expended in Oregon It is paid for horses, for cattle, for labor, for supplies of all kinds for the troops, for transportation, for forage, for wood, and for all the multitude of articles required for the military service Most of the supplies for the department are obtained in Oregon, and consequently most of the money so expended here and goes into the pockets of our people. The Government expends in Oregon, through the army alone, more money every year than it collects from the people by all forms of taxation

But the list of Government expenditures in Oregon is by no means ended yet Look at the Indian Department, with its large annual appropriation. Consider the large sum annually expended in surveying the public lands Take into account the salaries paid to officers other than those already enumerated. All these are among the regular and ordinary expenses of Government. They never stop. Then look at the special appropriations There is the Mint building at the Dalles, the Custom House at this place and the Custom House at Astoria, there are the lighthouses along the coast; there are the appropriations for improving our rivers and for surveying and buoying our harbors Will any one who considers this subject dare to talk longer about the 'burden of Federal taxation?'

It so happens that the paper which has been and is still foremost in shrieking about "Federal taxes"—we mean the Oregon Herald,—has, during the last three or four years, had a great deal of Government advertising, and its receipts from this source have actually exceeded the whole amount which all persons connected with it have paid in as taxes to the Government. This is a practical illustration of the "tyranny of Federal taxation" in Oregon.

The Government, of course, is doing nothing more than its duty in attending to the wants of the public service here, and it is our right as American citizens, occupying a new and distant portion of the Republic to receive this attention, help and protection But it is brazen effrontery, or worse, it is shameless ingratitude, for a citizen of Oregon to be snarling about paying the comparatively small amount of taxes which the Government requires of a State, to whose interests it has always given aid and protection far exceeding in amount the sum it has drawn away under every species of taxation combined

Forward

Again we remind Republicans of their duty in the canvass Now is the time to press the opposition at all points The day of the election approaches The result depends largely on the vigor and effectiveness of the work done Republicans have every motive to actuate them by which men can be inspired The success of correct and manly principles, the honor of our State, and in a great degree, its future prosperity are at stake The opposition have no principles worth fighting for Their success would be a public calamity No one can exaggerate the injurious effects that would result to our State from the triumph of a party committed to such doctrines as are set forth in the Albany platform The time to be given to argument is slipping by The hour for vigorous, resolute and determined action is at hand Republicans of Oregon! Victory is within your grasp Remember that you could have carried the State for Grant had the smallest effort been made Are you going to allow it to slip away from you now, when you have it in your power to succeed? You can carry your State if you will You can give to Repudiation, which has here raised its hideous head, a crushing blow Remember what is at stake, do your duty, and all will be well

Editorial Notes

The Democratic organ is still trying to connect the name of Ben Holladay with the affairs of the Republican party and throws out more insinuations which it wants somebody to answer, For our part we have only to say that we have already run down so many of that paper's falsehoods about this matter that we can't afford to give them any more attention

Mr J W Nesmith who sat in the Senate of the United States during the whole period of the war and voted steadily to pile up the huge mountain of debt which now gives the Democracy so much concern will deliver a speech here this (Tuesday) evening As Mr Nesmith can't very consistently speak in favor of the repudiation resolution adopted by the party he is training with we suppose he will take the "bloated bondholders" side of the question

Having telegraphed that he would be here last night to make a speech Mr Garfielde came overland (there being no steamer at Vancouver) wading the slough, walking a part of the way and finally getting a countryman to bring him the rest of the way in his wagon Arriving at half past nine, he immediately commenced an hour and a half's speech without taking any refreshments. We call this a pretty fair day's work, considering the fact that he had already made a two hours' speech at Vancouver

The Philadelphia Press gives a deal of good advice in the following No good Republican takes issue with his party after his party's nominations have been made It is often a very weak excuse that the selection of the majority was made by fraud or force. When the ticket is formed, good faith demands that it shall be cordially supported by all Republicans, and he who takes ground against it, does so clearly in the interests of the Democracy Republicans, Remember! Fight for your favorites before the nomination, and for your faith afterwards.

The tax roll of Connecticut increased $10 000,000 during the year ending April 30 1870 At the same time the debt was reduced $346,000, and there was an increase of $9 000,000 in the savings bank deposits The aggregate of these deposits is now over forty-seven millions and a half. So Gov. English states in his message to the Legislature This is an example of the average growth of wealth and increase of prosperity throughout the country generally That the deposits in the savings banks are increasing so fast is proof that working people are doing unusually well. How do the croakings of Democratic politicians tally with these facts?

Mr. Garfielde in Portland

AN IMMENSE CROWD AND A GREAT SPEECH

It was announced yesterday afternoon that Hon S Garfielde, Delegate in Congress from Washington, would speak at the Republican Headquarters. At the appointed hour the spacious hall was crowded by an eagerly expectant crowd, but Mr Garfielde did not arrive and Mr. Driver began a speech—and an excellent one too, as far as he proceeded. About half past nine it was announced that Mr. Garfielde had arrived, whereupon the meeting adjourned en masse, and led by the band, went down to meet and welcome Mr. Garfielde. He was escorted from his hotel to the Republican Headquarters with music and frequent cheers. It was at once evident that not more than a moiety of the vast throng could get into the hall, and it was therefore decided that he should speak from the portico of the New Columbian Hotel. He was received with three rousing cheers from a thousand throats and then, at a quarter before ten, he began a speech of an hour and a half, of such power eloquence and interest as has seldom been heard in the city of Portland. Scarcely a dozen men of the immense audience but stayed from first to last, and would have stayed an hour longer had the speaker proceeded so long He gave a clear history of the legislation in Congress securing the great Northern Pacific railroad to the people of this coast, showing that the country is indebted for it to the Republican party, who fought it through Congress against the most powerful opposition from the Democratic members In the same manner Oregon is indebted to the Republican party for the national subsidy to the Astoria, Portland and McMinnville road The argument and showing in this matter was most clear, positive and convincing. Mr Garfielde next addressed himself to the great financial questions at issue—the tariff revenue matters, taxes etc., showing so plainly the policy of pursuing the Republican theories upon these matters that we doubt if there was a single intelligent mind in the whole vast throng not blinded by partisan prejudice but must have been thoroughly convinced He also addressed himself to the Democratic heresy of repudiation, and on this point, as well as every other touched his speech was a triumphant success. We have neither time nor space to further follow this great speech. It must suffice us to say that it was a powerful, masterly effort throughout. No one went away from the ground last night, but went with the conviction that Mr Garfielde, not only as an eloquent speaker, but a close and cogent reasoner, has few peers on the Pacific Coast, or anywhere else At the close he was given prolonged and enthusiastic applause the entire crowd seemingly joining in the earnest wish that he may be re-elected in his Territory Washington can never more honor herself and promote her vital interests than by returning Selucius Garfielde to Congress

In the discussion in the county canvass which took place yesterday in Multnomah precinct, Judge Wait delivered himself of some highly original ideas He wanted to abolish the fees of Sheriffs and County Clerks, and make those offices in every county salaried offices, with the same salaries in every county Mr Whalley showed that this would not be quite the thing, as the Sheriff of Multnomah county ought to have somewhat more pay than the Sheriff of Clatsop. This was the extent of Judge Wait's efforts for reform in that direction For the balance of the time he devoted himself to the regular bill of fare, and went through with his regular greenbacks and Chinaman in the usual order

The candidates for Congress will close the canvass at Hillsboro Washington county, on Thursday the 2d June. This was one of the prominent places [illegible] on their tour toward the south The people of Washington county as they intend to give Judge Wilson a rousing majority will be very glad to hear him

A [illegible] on the ocean wave

Similar sentiments animate our heart when we recall the ancient distich Early to bed and early to rise —but it is not necessary to quote what we all know and have suffered from

PARTICULARS OF THE WRECK OF THE BARK OCCIDENT —It has already been announced that the bark Occident was wrecked on entering Coos Bay quite recently The following are the particulars, from a private letter written to Capt Wm Dierdorff in an official capacity which we are permitted to extract On the third instant, while the tug Fearless was towing the bark Occident over the bar the hawser parted A strong south wind prevailed at the time which drove her on shore where she lies high and dry at half tide No lives lost We have stripped and abandoned her for the present at least It has been decided by all who have examined the hawser, which the Occident was being towed with that the cause of the accident was that the hawser had been cut It appears as if a thin chisel had been inserted between the strands and all of the inside cut Upon examination the same hawser was found cut in other places in the same manner We learn that it was a new ten inch hawser from the same letter and if it had not been trifled with would have been of sufficient strength to pull a bark over the top of Mount Robinson There are four tugs on that bar and the prospect is that some of them are dealing in unfair rivalry, which calls for an investigation Such business is worse than assassination and we trust for the name of honesty, that the guilty parties to this crime may be brought to justice

THE NEW POWDER HOUSE —Yesterday we had occasion to visit the new powder house, lately erected by Messrs Goodenough & Clark two miles and a half South of this city on the Macadamized road for the Dupont Powder Company of Wilmington Delaware. The magazine is perfectly fire proof, well and substantially built, 24 by 32 feet in size, 12 feet ceiling, is thoroughly ventilated and is situated in the centre of a three acre tract of land on the southeast corner of the land claim of Mr Thomas B Stephens. The tract was purchased by H W Corbett & Co, Agents of the Dupont Company. The whole is being enclosed in a neat picket fence, six feet in height all graded and platted and will be an ornament to the road, as well as being the means of supplying the requirements of the country in a safe manner The Hazard Powder Company have storage in the same magazine R G. Smith, Agent. It must be a great relief to the people of East Portland who have patiently borne the risks and dangers of explosion from the power stored in the old log house on that side of the river, so long, to know that the bulk of it has been moved away There is but a small quantity left in the old powder house and we presume what is there will be taken away soon

MR GARFIELDE AT VANCOUVER —An immense mass of people assembled at Vancouver yesterday, far exceeding in point of numbers any [illegible] ever assembled at that place for the purpose of hearing Hon S Garfielde Republican candidate for Congress, who arrived yesterday from Washington City Mr Garfielde was greeted with the greatest enthusiasm A national salute was fired upon the arrival of the steamer and a procession formed preceded by the 23d Infantry band, which marched to the public square where the meeting was organized by the appointment of Mr Struve Chairman, who introduced the speaker who was vociferously cheered as he proceeded in one of his finest orations. The steamer Carrie was chartered to bring people from Lewis river and the surrounding country, and she carried a full load to Vancouver on this occasion.

THE CATERPILLAR PEST —The destruction of caterpillars in this part of the State at present occupies very much of the attention of orchardists and gardeners [illegible] The like has never before been seen in Oregon, and the destruction should be general this year else the succeeding few years it will be an almost utter impossibility to get rid of the increase, as it is well known that the trees most fruitful [illegible] this year will be the most fruitful source next We have heard of various methods of destroying the caterpillar but have yet seen nothing which acts more effectually than kerosene oil poured upon them as they hive together in a body on the trunk of the tree during the warmth of the day

AN EXCELLENT BOAT —The new wharf boat being constructed at the O S N Co's ship-yard in this city, will be finished to night and may be launched on Thursday This is one of the most substantial boats of the kind that has ever been built in this part of the country She is 100 feet in length 28 feet breadth of beam and is 6 feet 3 inches in depth of hold For the better preservation of the hull three dead lights will be placed in each side of her for the purposes of ventilation. The covering will not be placed upon her until she is towed up to the Cascades where she will be used by the Company

THE PIXLEY TROUPE The Pixley Sisters now on the way to Portland performed at Reed's Opera House in Salem last evening On Thursday evening they performed in Corvallis and the Gazette says of them [illegible] of the finest troupes that has ever visited Corvallis and we regret exceedingly that our citizens did not give them that encouragement which their merit demands The Sisters are [illegible] girls and accomplished [illegible] One of the [illegible] is alone worth the admission price The gentlemen of the party are all excellent actors

NOW IS THE TIME We refer to the sale of real estate on Saturday next by Mr A B Richardson of those [illegible] homestead lots on the Colborn Barrell [illegible] East Portland as possibly the best [illegible] that will be given to secure an elegant [illegible] future homestead The lots are [illegible] Stark and Washington [illegible] a resort of [illegible] business man [illegible] very rapidly appre[illegible] have any idea of secur[illegible] It the present [illegible]

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 24, 1870.

DELUSION OF EARLY RISING.—There is no greater delusion than that which imagines early rising important for health; no greater error than that which places it among the virtues. While early rising has been sung in poetry, and advocated in proverbs from time immemorial, it has been secretly and rightfully cursed by its unhappy victims ever since civilization conceived the idea of comfort. But we are all so bound by the law of custom, so endeared to a proverb or a musty sentiment, that our lips continually give faint assent to the value of early rising, even while we long at heart to resist the tyranny which it imposes upon us. What a frightful aggregate of discomforts upon a man who practices it through life—who every day is ushered from sleep into the raw, blank, chill, dull atmosphere of early morning, and begins his day's existence before the sun has dispelled the fogs, dried up the vapors, warmed the air, and made ready, as Nature's great servant of all work, as it is, the earth for our use! Early rising means a hurried dressing in a dim, half-lighted room—a sleepy, yawning, stumbling descent down dark stairways; a rapid breakfast in a cheerless, sunless room, while cold shivers run down the back, and a sensation of dizziness creeps over the entire body; and then a precipitate plunge into the mists, and vapors, and general rawness of the streets. There is no sweetness in the day begun in this way, and no health either. We agree with a writer in Appleton's Journal, that the sun should be up before us to give us light, and warmth, and comfort; our breakfast-rooms should be cheerful with his beams, and our breakfasts should be partaken with the ease, the comforts, the deliberation, the social enlivenment, that are ours only when we rise at a rational hour. A hasty meal eaten by candlelight, or snatched in the gray, chilling dawn is an abomination. Early rising, hence, opens the day with keen discomfort. It is productive of numerous social ills; it [illegible] the stomach, promotes irritability, [illegible] the nerves, creates bad temper, and makes of [illegible] a mockery. A voyager, long suffering from sea-sickness, declared that, if once on land again, he would devote the rest of his life to hunting up and flogging the man who wrote "A life on the ocean wave."

[illegible] estimate our heart when we recall the ancient distich, "Early to bed and early to rise"—but it is not necessary to quote what [illegible] know and have suffered from.

[illegible] OF THE WRECK OF THE BARK [illegible].—It has already been announced that the bark Occident was wrecked on entering Coos Bay recently. The following are the particulars from a private letter written to Capt. Wm. [illegible], in an official capacity, which we are [illegible] to extract: "On the third instant, while [illegible] was towing the bark Occident [illegible], the hawser parted. A strong south [illegible] at the time, which drove her on [illegible] she lies high and dry at half tide. [illegible] We have stripped and abandoned [illegible], at least. It has been decided [illegible] examined the hawser, which the [illegible] was towed with, that the cause of [illegible] was that the hawser had been cut. It [illegible] a chisel had been inserted between the strands, and all of the inside cut. Upon [illegible] the same hawser was found cut in [illegible] the same manner." We learn that [illegible] inch hawser, from the same letter, if it had not been trifled with would have [illegible] strength to pull a bark over the [illegible]. There are four tugs on the bar, and the prospect is that some of them [illegible] rivalry, which calls for an [illegible]. Such business is worse than assassination, and we trust, for the name of honesty, that the guilty parties to this crime may be [illegible].

THE NEW POWDER HOUSE.—Yesterday we had [illegible] the new powder house, lately [illegible] by [illegible] Goodenough & Clark two [illegible] south of this city on the [illegible] for the Dupont Powder Company [illegible]. The magazine is [illegible] and substantially built, 24 [illegible], 12 feet ceiling, is thoroughly [illegible] and is situated in the centre of a three-acre tract of land on the southeast corner of the [illegible] B. Stephens. The land was [illegible] by H. W. Corbett & Co., agents of the Dupont Company. The whole is [illegible] a high picket fence, six feet in [illegible], and will be an ornament to the road, as well as being the means [illegible] of the country in [illegible] Hazard Powder Company. [illegible] in the same magazine, R. G. Sneath, [illegible]. It will be a great relief to the people of [illegible], who have patiently borne the risks [illegible] of explosion from the power stored [illegible] on that side of the river so [illegible] that the bulk of it has been moved [illegible]. There is but a small quantity left in the [illegible], and we presume what is there [illegible] away soon.

[illegible] AT VANCOUVER.—An immense [illegible] people assembled at Vancouver yesterday, [illegible] in point of numbers any [illegible] assembled at that place, for the purpose [illegible] Hon. S. Garfielde, Republican [illegible] Congress, who arrived yesterday [illegible] City. Mr. Garfielde was greeted [illegible] enthusiasm. A national salute [illegible] upon the arrival of the steamer and a [illegible], preceded by the 23d Infantry [illegible] marched to the public square, [illegible] was organized by the appointment [illegible] Chairman, who introduced [illegible] who was vociferously cheered as he [illegible] of his finest orations. The steamer [illegible] chartered to bring people from [illegible] the surrounding country, and [illegible] to Vancouver on this occasion.

THE CATERPILLAR PEST.—The destruction of [illegible] in this part of the State at present occupies [illegible] the attention of orchardists and gardeners generally. The like has never before [illegible] in Oregon, and the destruction should [illegible] the succeeding few years [illegible] impossibility to get rid [illegible] well known that the trees [illegible] this year will be the most [illegible]. We have heard of various [illegible] the caterpillar, but have [illegible] acts more effectually than [illegible] poured upon them as they hive together in a body on the trunk of the tree during the warmth of the day.

AN EXCURSION BOAT.—The new wharf boat being constructed at the O. S. N. Co.'s ship-yard [illegible] will be finished to-night, and may be [illegible] on Thursday. This is one of the most [illegible] of the kind that has ever been built in this part of the country. She is 100 feet [illegible], 28 feet breadth of beam, and is 6 feet [illegible] depth of hold. For the better preservation of the hull, three dead lights will be placed [illegible] of her, for the purposes of ventilation. The [illegible] will not be placed upon her until she is towed up to the Cascades, where she will be used by the Company.

THE PIXLEY TROUPE.—The Pixley Sisters, now [illegible] to Portland, performed at Reed's Opera House in Salem last evening. On Thursday [illegible] they performed in Corvallis, and the [illegible] of them: "This is one of the finest troupes that has ever visited Corvallis, and we regret [illegible] that our citizens did not give them that encouragement which their merit demands. The "Sisters" are lovely girls and accomplished vocalists and actresses. One of their [illegible], worth the admission price. The [illegible] of the party are also excellent actors."

NOW IS THE TIME.—We deem the sale of real [illegible] on Saturday next, by Mr. A. B. Richardson, [illegible] of those two acre homestead lots on the Colburn Barrell addition to East Portland, as possibly the best opportunity that will be given to secure an elegant site for a future homestead. The lots are on a direct line east of Stark and Washington street, just a reasonable walk for a business man, and it certainly seems to us must very rapidly appreciate in value. Persons who [illegible] of securing one of them, should visit [illegible] and take a look for themselves.

THE COUNTY CANVASS.—The Republican and [illegible] candidates for offices in Multnomah county started on a canvass of the county yesterday, beginning in Multnomah Precinct. To-day they will be at Powell's Valley, and thereafter as follows:

[illegible] Precinct, Wednesday, May 25th at 1 P. M.
[illegible] Thursday, " 26th at " "
[illegible] Friday, " 27th at " "
[illegible] Saturday, " 28th at " "
[illegible] Thursday, May 30th, in evening.
[illegible] May 31st in the evening.

[illegible].—Ninety head of cattle were [illegible] yesterday, on board the [illegible]. They will be returned [illegible] in a few months.

LOCAL REVIEW.—Two coachmen, one gardener and two porters applied for work at the Labor Exchange yesterday.

Mr. Oreo has some desirable rooms for offices, to let.

The ship Hattie C. Besse will load lumber at Oak Point, for San Francisco.

The proposed improvement of Salmon street, by plank roadway and sidewalks, has commenced.

The Pioneer Base Ball club will meet on Raleigh's ground at 4:30 this evening for a practice game.

There will be a session of the U. S. Circuit Court for Oregon, convene in this city to-day at 10 o'clock A. M.

A farmer yesterday returning from the city, met with a smash up on the county road south of this city, by the breaking of the fore-axle of his wagon.

Peter Abramson, Jacob Link, and Richard Marks were admitted to citizenship by the United States District Court for Oregon, in session yesterday.

The husbands, sons, and brothers of thirteen families, just from the States, left this city on Sunday in search of a place to locate all near together. The women folk remain in this city with the younger members of the families.

Telegraphic communication with Walla Walla will be established now in a few days. The people up there feel about this as we of Portland did when a "streak of lightning" dashed in at Arrigoni's from San Francisco. Didn't we celebrate though on that occasion. Senator Williams made a splendid speech from the balcony of the American Exchange hotel.

PROGRESS OF BUILDINGS.—The foundation walls for Hon. H. W. Corbett's new brick on First street, is now finished and the walls of the first story commenced. The Custom House and Post-office building is fast rising. The foundations for the four brick stores of Messrs. Allen & Lewis is ready for the walls. Dr. Glisan is excavating for his block of brick stores, at the corner of Pine and First streets. Capt. A. P. Ankeny has about concluded his contracts for eight stores on Pine, First and Front streets.

REDUCED.—The stage of the Wallamet at this point was yesterday reduced to a cypher at the O. S. N. Co.'s wharf. The P. T. Company was yesterday again using their lower dock, and fears were being felt that the same proceedings would be necessary at the O. S. N. Co.'s dock, but these warm days will again cause a rise of snow water.

THE CORRECT DATE.—A typographical error in the Sentinel has occasioned some conflict respecting the time the picnic will be given by the Catholic Library and Christian Doctrine Society, and Mr. Herman requests us to say that the excursion will come off on the 30th,—Monday, May 30, 1870,—as originally contemplated.

REAL ESTATE.—We are informed by the records at the County Clerk's office, that for a week past the transfers recorded, show that the considerations paid for real estate, aggregate nearly $22,000. The records made yesterday were for $3,785.

GOV. SALOMON.—Gov. Salomon telegraphs to Mayor Goldsmith that he will reach Portland this evening. The Glee Club accompanies him. On Wednesday evening, as has already been announced, the Governor will speak here.

NEW BOOKS.—The following new books have just been added to the Portland Library: Thoughts on the Services, by Coxe; presented by Rt. Rev. Bishop Morris; Brake Up, by Oliver Optic; Priest and Nun, by Julia McNair Wright.

TAYLOR STREET M. E. CHURCH.—Workmen are now employed in the final completion of the Methodist Episcopal Church on Taylor street. The spire will be 166 feet in height, from the base.

GOVERNMENT WAGONS.—A large number of wagons are fitting at the Department Headquarters in this city for the supply of posts in the interior. They will be sent by water as far inland as possible.

SPECIAL TRIP.—We understand that the fine little pleasure propeller Wasp, owned by Mr. Buchanan, was placed under charter for a trip to Vancouver last evening. She will return this forenoon.

CHANGE OF HOURS.—The hours at which the Portland Library Rooms will be open, have been changed from 9 A. M. till 5 P. M.; and from 7 P. M. to 9 P. M.

TELEGRAPHIC ITEMS.

Six men were publicly whipped at Wilmington (Del.), on the 14th inst. for petty larceny. The old style of "civilization" still prevails in that little State.

A Chicago dispatch of May 14th states that the contests over Republican nominations to Congress in Iowa are very warm. In the Des Moines District, now represented by Palmer, a primary election was held yesterday, resulting in a majority for John A. Casson, the former member.

An address is issued by the citizens of Richmond, addressed to the people of the United States, in regard to the condition and circumstances of the sufferers by the recent calamity in that city. They say that 350 persons were involved in the fall of the floor. Sixty-five have died, and many more are seriously injured. The families both of the dead and injured are now suffering in many instances for even the necessaries of life. Invoking the spirit of charity in the broadest sense, without reference to political or social diversities of feeling, the Committee ask in the interests of humanity, of benevolence and of country, for contributions.

Following are further particulars of the Indian attack on the Kansas Pacific railway on the 14th May: Yesterday Indians, supposed to be Sioux, made attacks at nine different points within a distance of fifty miles along the line of construction of the Kansas Pacific Railway, between Kit Carson and the lake. The last attack was made by about 150 Indians at a point four miles east of the lake, and occurred at eight o'clock this (Sunday) morning. The construction men resisted at each of the points attacked, with a loss, as far as ascertained, of twelve men killed, ten wounded, and 120 mules and horses driven off. The Indians retreated in the direction of the Republican river, with the captured stock.

A Fort Scott (Ark.) dispatch of May 13th says: One of the most diabolical affairs ever recorded took place Tuesday night, at the town of La Dare, a few miles south of here. Six men, either Texans or stragglers, outlaws from the Indian Territory, went into the house of one Roach, to stay all night, but were refused admission on account of their drunken condition. They then knocked Roach insensible, and went to a bed occupied by his two daughters, aged twelve and fourteen years, and ravished them during the entire night, using a knife to accomplish their purpose. Roach finally revived, but feared to stir, knowing that he would be killed. He describes the cries and entreaties of the girls as heartrending. A quarrel arose among the demons and one was shot dead while in the act of ravishing one of the girls, whereupon they fled to the woods, taking one of the girls with them and leaving their dead comrade. The town was aroused, parties started in every direction, and soon captured the one with the girl and hung him to a tree. The others were subsequently hung to the same tree.

San Francisco Enterprise.

The Stockton (Cal.) Independent is very severe on "San Francisco enterprise." It says that "the broad, liberal, far seeing scope of San Francisco enterprise, and the generous current in which San Francisco capital is wont to flow, were aptly and characteristically illustrated in our dispatches of May 12th from that city. Did our patrons carefully read, ponder and comprehend these dispatches? Lest some may have failed to do so we reproduce a juicy morsel, as follows:

"A number of capitalists are canvassing a plan for raising a large capital to purchase all of the bulk of the tickets for the Mercantile Library lottery, at the discount allowed by the managers, at the opening of the books, expecting to be able to sell them at full prices or a premium, thus realizing ten to twenty five per cent. on the investment in a few days.

The Independent continues in this strain:

Here we have in a nut shell a speaking illustration of the almost unvarying course of San Francisco enterprise from the day of the first discoveries down to the present time. * * * This is the sort of enterprise that has been wont to "corner" the flour, the potato and the candle market, and run those necessaries up to famine prices, while the known fact that the supply exceeded the necessary demand prevented relief by importation. This is the sort of enterprise that rushes into thoroughly developed rich mining discoveries, builds a twenty thousand dollar mill, and takes a mortgage on a million dollar ledge, and then "freezes out" the locators and outside owners. This is the sort of enterprise that has opposed all measures that would require general taxation in the interest of development; that has sucked the interior dry and hoarded its accumulations, stopped the wheels of progress and reduced the working classes to beggary. This is the sort of enterprise that collects a tax on the few thousands of interior capital secured by mortgage, and then procures remittance of its own tax on many millions. This is the sort of enterprise that refuses its own money to aid development and production, and bars out the money of other sections that is eager to seek these channels. In other words, this is the sort, and San Francisco is the seat of enterprise that has held California with her illimitable wealth of natural resources back, while smaller and lesser favored States have made gigantic strides in the pathway of progress. Away with this "ten-to twenty-five per cent. within a few days" type of enterprising capitalists.

The Cincinnati Enquirer is in ecstacy. After diligent search, it finds the names of seven negroes who voted the Democratic ticket in Kentucky, at the late election, and the event is so momentous that it prints their names at length, in small caps at that. For fear the public will not credit the announcement, it refers to the Franklin (Ky.) Sentinel as evidence. It does not mention whether the seven Africans were merely drunk or only insane, when they committed the offense, but draws from it the most happy omen of a Democratic future. It asks, triumphantly, "What is the penalty for such a crime? Is it the frowns of the, Grant, the displeasure of Congress, or is it merely death?" As all the balance of the colored vote was cast for the Republican party, and as there is some doubt about the sanity of the seven, we can't predict the penalty. What they would find, however, if that party should gain the power, would be an immediate return to their old condition of slavery.

The Committee of Arrangements for the late Picnic of the First Unitarian Society hereby tender thanks to the P. T. Co., and Officers of Steamboats Senator and Alert for the use of their boats and courtesies rendered in transporting the Society and School to and from the grounds last Saturday; also, to Mr. Thos. Stevens for the use of his beautiful grove.

Help for the Miserable.

No wonder that the face of the dyspeptic has a dragged, worn, no else expression that is pitiful to see. No wonder that the miserable martyr to indigestion is fretful, irritable and unsocial. Whoever can bear the pangs of this tormenting complaint cheerfully, and with an unruffled temper, is little short of a saint. But why should human fortitude continue to be thus severely tried, when an absolute specific for the disease is always at hand. Everywhere within the limits of civilization in this hemisphere Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is obtainable, and the history of the first case of dyspepsia in which it has been administered in vain has yet to be written. The sickness at the stomach, the sense of weakness and stupor, the feeling of emptiness and hollowness before eating, and of oppression afterwards, the fluttering of the pulse, the intense nervous irritation, the morbid indisposition to exertion, the weariness of life and indifference to its pleasures, which are among the symptoms of the disease in its chronic form are rapidly ameliorated by the tonic operation of this palatable vegetable restorative which seems to renovate and quicken all the dormant forces of the system, and rouse the mind from the apathy and gloom inseparable from a derangement of the digestive and secretive functions. In ordinary cases a few weeks suffices to complete the cure, but when the disease is complicated, as it often is, with torpidity of the liver, severe constipation, impurity of the blood, and a sluggish circulation, a longer time may be required. Persevere however, and the result is certain. An encouraging improvement will be perceptible from day to day, and the convalescent, knowing and feeling that he or she is on the high road to health, will await the happy issue with comparative patience.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, imposing upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

FREE LOVE.

We love our patrons, both large and small,
No choice of sex—we love them all.
If it chance to be a luckless wight
No matter, so the "chink's" in sight!
If it chance to be a worthy man,
We'll trust him, on the fortnight plan;
But would prefer, if the same to him,
To sell him goods for the ready tin!

Send on your orders, send on your chink;
By sending the money you're saving the ink;
No danger in sending by your children or wife—
We're all of us married and settled for life.
Our love is on the golden plan;
We love the lady as well as the man;
We're partial to none—American or Brittans—
The money's "what's the matter with Hannah."

Come with your bacon, butter and beans;
Come with your lettuce, cabbage and greens;
Come with your chickens, lard and honey,
We'll exchange you goods or pay you the money.
One thing bear in mind—if love's labor is lost—
We never sell goods at less than their cost;
And when reading our sign, reflect that below
Is an honorable firm, Mr. GATMAN & CO.

For Labor, Not For Property

(From the Philadelphia Press.)

It is difficult sometimes to convince those who have not carefully studied the whole question that Pennsylvania in her tariff stand, asks protection not for property or capital but for labor. Mr Armstrong, of the Eighteenth Congressional District has put this point so well in his pungent speech of last week in the House that it is worthy of reprint as a political tract.

The intrinsic value of a ton of iron apart from labor, whether in pig or bar or any of its ultimate forms of highest value even to needles watch-springs or watch screws worth thousands of dollars by the pound, is only the value of the unwrought ores in their native bed and every dollar of this superadded value the value of brawn and muscle—which we of Pennsylvania are endeavoring to protect by a jealous tariff.

But to Mr Armstrong's figures. Anthracite pig he tells us at the furnace costs on a general average about $30 per ton. Of this there enters into it of—

Ore 2¼ tons worth in the ground say 40 cents per ton	$1 00
Limestone, 1½ tons worth in the ground say 4 cents per ton	[illegible]
Coal, 2 tons worth in the ground say 30 cents per ton	60
Lumber, oil, tallow, waste fuel, &c., worth say	08
Total	$1 [illegible]

Or, to cover all possible items which may be reckoned as intrinsic say $2 per ton. Thus, in every ton of iron at $30 per ton there is not exceeding $2 of original value and $28 of labor and every additional value which it takes to the highest uses of which it is susceptible is but adding labor to labor.

Estimating that such enters into the production of pig iron at an average of $2 per day, there is $28 of labor or employment for fourteen men, at $2 per day for every ton produced.

It is too plain for argument that every ton of iron imported is therefore an importation of labor. Assuming ore-leave abroad to be equal to ore-leave here, and that a day's labor is equally effective there and here, every ton of pig imported is an importation of the labor of fourteen men and just in the proportion of increased value in the higher forms of manufacture does the importation of labor increase.

Now, if labor in Europe—say in England, Sweden, Norway and Russia the iron countries—and labor in the United States brought the same wages there would be no trouble and no tariff question to debate. Both countries would then stand on the same footing, and we could easily compete with Europe, as labor balancing, the scales the rate of exchange the cost of carriage, etc, would incline them in our favor.

But labor notoriously is not the same. Every child knows that the workingman of Europe is a serf, under-fed under clad and underpaid. It is a very fair generalization to say that averaging England, Russia and Sweden, the laborer is paid but half as much as here. This one item, then, is a saving to the foreign manufacturer of one half of the cost of labor as against his American competitor. If, therefore, taking up our old figures, the labor value of American iron is $28 per ton of pig, the labor value of foreign is but $14. In other words, the foreign manufacturer, with his serf labor, has the clear start of his American competitor of $14 per ton. From this are to be subtracted the cost of freight, insurance, exchange, and premium on gold, amounting in all say to about $8 14, which leaves him yet a clear margin of $5 86 per ton.

This is the difference in wages which it is absolutely necessary to protect if the workingmen of Pennsylvania are to be secured employment for the winter. We shall not now speak of the cost of transportation from the furnace to the market, the interest on the capital employed, and other items which enter into the production of iron. We are speaking now simply and solely of and for the workman and his wages. Five dollars and eighty-six cents per ton on pig is the minimum tariff which we ask to protect the free workman of Pennsylvania against the slave of Europe. The calculation is simple enough, and if any free-trade oracle is not satisfied with it let him refute it.

A Late Incident at Richmond.—A correspondent of the Petersburg Index, writing from Richmond, May 3d, says

I heard yesterday of one of the most remarkable circumstances connected with the calamity of Wednesday last. Professor Dews a well-known violinist of this city at the time of that occurrence was standing in the wide avenue leading from the Governor's house somewhat near the monument. He heard the crash of the falling timber and saw the clouds of dust rising from the windows, when with terrible suddenness and by some astonishing and inexplicable working of the imagination the whole scene, as described afterward by many persons became vividly impressed upon his mind. He knew that a horrible accident had taken place, but more than this, he could hear the moans of the dying and the cries of the wounded, and he could see their struggles under the masses of fallen timbers. The effect upon him was to produce paralysis of the left side, his whole system was shocked as if by an electric current, the nerves vibrated and tingled till they seemed as if they must snap, so great was the tension. He is yet confined to bed, but is improving under the medical attention of Dr. P A Frayser. Prof Dews is a reliable, middle-aged gentleman. He is not at all of an imaginative disposition—is in the most vigorous health and weighs two hundred pounds. I implicitly believe his statement, unaccountable as it is. The present condition of his whole side and arms prove how dreadfully he was shocked and his eyes were freely spotted, as is often seen in cases of paralysis, or particularly paralysis of the brain. I have heard of some other persons who were nearly as badly injured by hearing the result of the accident. Lawyer Cannon one of our most venerable and worthy citizens was paralyzed and is now confined to his bed. He has been before in this condition however but none of these cases seem so strange as this where a person neither seeing nor being told what had happened, at once realized it in all of its shocking details.

"Turtle Soup."—The following which should put outside patrons of the [illegible] and inexpensive Sacramento caterers on their guard the Bee of May 5th is responsible for

Some funny things occur at the Chinese Sabbath Schools in this city. For instance one poor Celestial woman intent upon mastering the English language stumbled upon the word "cry." "What would you do," asked her anxious teacher, "if you should fall from the top of this church?" "Oh yes, I know, cry, hurt." But it is seldom that such exposures are made as happened last Sabbath evening. The scholar in this case is a full-grown man who works at a restaurant in this city. Spelling earnestly away in his primer he finally arrived at the sentence "Don't be afraid, it is a toad." "What that?" said the scholar. The faithful teacher tried her best to explain but her explanation being fruitless she called pencil and paper in requisition and sketched the animal. A light suddenly dawned on the dark mind. "Oh yes, I see, we call him turtle soup." "No, no," cried the teacher, "that you mean is turtle soup, turtle very large like this"—calling pencil into requisition again—"while toads have little round spots on their backs like these, and live in this city in the water but they never make turtle soup." "Yes yes [illegible] returned John, "I know, I [illegible] we [illegible] turtle soup down at the [illegible] small boys bring him toads, he make him heap good [illegible] turtle soup. [illegible] you pays your money and you takes your choice."

On the 30th of April's meler [illegible] [illegible] Shakespeare [illegible] the Court of [illegible] wood lifesize [illegible] tenance remaining [illegible] Shakespeare [illegible] Richard Burbidge a well-known player and artist contemporary with Shakespeare and to whom report has always given the honor of painting the only portrait for which Shakespeare sat. Rev Henry Ward Beecher is rapidly gaining a reputation as a wit. The following note lately sent by him to the proprietor of the New York Ledger contains his last and best effort

My Dear Mr Bonner—I have just received a curious letter from Michigan and I give it to you verbatim:

Owasso City Mich [illegible] 1870

I have heard of men who wrote letters and forgot to sign their name but never before met a case in which a man signed his name and forgot to write the letter.

A bill to [illegible] which ought to be lawfully charged has been occupying the attention of the Dominion Parliament. [illegible] growers urge the measure under the mistaken impression that Government can establish the market value of money, and compel all parties to buy and sell at a fixed price though they have long since ceased attempting to regulate the price of bread and beef.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Portland Monday May [illegible] 1870

New York [illegible]

Legal Tenders steady at [illegible]

We have no change to note [illegible] in the market. [illegible] has been to buy a very fair trade [illegible] and a slight improvement in Dry Goods.

There is less certainty felt among producers [illegible] last week and transactions are limited to small lots as seek the market.

"Eastern papers contain speculations and facts in regard to the next crop of wheat. The Buffalo Express says that a gentleman who has recently traveled in Ohio and through the northern part of Indiana a portion of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota within the past few months—a portion of the great wheat region—says from what he deems authorities that not more than one third the usual amount of wheat was sown last fall in these States and that in many parts of them the wheat which was sown is entirely killed out by the alternate freezing and thawing which has characterized the winter in the West. The Hearth and Home referring to [illegible] says [illegible] the wheat sown last fall is a decrease of two thirds of the [illegible]. But all [illegible] much less [illegible] of wheat now being [illegible] Western farmers are [illegible] prices. We might copy from other Eastern papers articles showing that the wheat crop is expected to be very light.

We have seen statements in California papers on the subject of the coming wheat crop from which we learn that in some districts it will be of little value on account of drought and cold [illegible] In Oregon the prospect is very fine for winter wheat. We do not think that as large an amount of spring wheat was sown as usual. We anticipate good crops. The weather now is extremely favorable for the growing wheat.

The New England Farmer thus refers to the coming wheat crops and the present wheat market in portions of Europe.

There is no considerable change in the reports from Europe. In England the wheat is small and has been somewhat injured in places by cold weather but it is on the Continent, but mostly confined to Germany, the stocks in store are gradually going into consumption. Part of the foreign supplies intended for England have gone to France where there appears to be a considerable demand for wheat. One account says the importations into Marseilles are large, and numerous cargoes shipped from the Black and Azof seas for Great Britain have been directed to proceed to that port."

The best information we can obtain, in regard to the amount of wheat on hand in the great grain districts of this country and Europe, and the lessened amount of wheat expected of the coming crop leads to the belief that in the coming season there will be an essential advance in the price of wheat.

San Francisco Established 1854

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons both male and female are [illegible] suffering out a miserable existence from the [illegible] indulgences or from virus [illegible] Look at their pallid features [illegible] broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyments of life. In this horrid situation they [illegible] Let parents, guardians [illegible] attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible soul-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them to the skillful Doctor Gibbon a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to [illegible] inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are still sound or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to beware of the many pretended doctors [illegible] publishing their skill [illegible] imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry for you may fall into the hands of these [illegible]

Seminal Weakness.

[illegible] the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or [illegible] indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical means [illegible] countenance dark spots under the eyes [illegible] ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves [illegible] of the limbs confused vision, blunted intellect loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form acquaintances, a disposition to shun society loss of memory hectic flushes [illegible] eruptions about the face, [illegible] consumption, night sweats monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay obtaining immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating case symptoms length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity to any part of the country with full and plain directions for use by [illegible] Dollars sent in registered letter or through Wells Fargo & Co

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretended [illegible] with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary [illegible] of the self styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and their places are tradesmen and because too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths shoemakers [illegible] newspaper carriers intelligence office keepers etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will find their Medical Institutes in it but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863 [illegible] to avoid imposition [illegible] advertising physicians [illegible] whose certificates [illegible] until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by [illegible] certificates, or pretended patient's letters. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call of his ability [illegible] of his ability to treat disease that he proposes to cure.

Address DR J F GIBBON 623 Kearney street corner of Commercial (Private Entrance on Commercial) San Francisco Post Office Box 487.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 487 ON THE LETTER. Consultation FREE.
